

About Nightline

At Nightline we have been delivering our clients' promises since 1992. In that time our business has got a lot bigger, delivery has got much faster and the world has got a whole lot smaller.

Our success is based on one simple mission: to get your letter, document, parcel, package or consignment to its destination on time, on budget, anywhere on the planet. And because we know good things come in small parcels, no job is too small, no distance too great.

We serve every kind of business from online retailers to SMEs, from multi-national tech companies, to auto-parts, to retail distributors. They put their business in our hands because they know they can depend on us to deliver – every time.

Nightline Delivers – in a number of ways:

On the face of it, our business is very simple: we pick up and we deliver. And, from your point of view, we'd like to keep it that simple.

Nightline does, however, offer a variety of services, depending on what you need delivered, where it's going, who it's going to and how frequently it's going.

- Nightline Delivers is our core service – pick-up and delivery anywhere on the island of Ireland.
- Nightline International. Through our national and UK depots, and through our international affiliations, we can deliver your package to anywhere in the world. And we mean, anywhere.
- Nightline Logistics uses Nightline's bespoke 'Smartship' technology to power our leading supply chain management system, including secure storage, pick-pack-and-delivery, and automated ordering/reporting.
- Parcel Motel is as revolutionary as it is simple. If you can't be at home to receive our package, we'll deliver it to your nearest Parcel Motel for you to retrieve – at your leisure – with your secure code.
- Eirpost is the future of postage. Working in conjunction with Swiss Post, Nightline offers businesses fast, secure, economical global mail services.
